Statements from Audience:

Jess Miller, Facilities: Talked about a few of the projects that facilities will have going on in the upcoming months. Preventative maintenance to buildings including ensuring that shingles look good. Commented on the automated door that is incredibly helpful, but if approached too fast and at a poor angle you hit the side of the door with your face. A few projects on Wayne Crooch and ESB. Also discussed the RiverHawk Wrenches car, with the backstory of where the car came from. As far as this goes, we are still awaiting more detail for the revised RFF, though the additional details were helpful.

Old Business:

None.

New Business:

Club Certification:

Non-Trads in the Trades: A club for the diverse range of people in the trades, such as welding. Looking at having more representation! The motion was made to approve the club. (Blocher, Wene). (12:0:0)

Request for Funds:

Community Resources Student Project: Assessed the RFF, and gave a vote to move forward or postpone due to more concise information needed. Voted to postpone pending new RFF with more information regarding prices.

Success Center Academic Coach Vests: Motion was made to approve the RFF as is. (Mirza, Kilburn). (13:0:1)

Officer and Senator Reports:

Jesika Barnes, President:

No Report.

Erin Robertson, Vice President:

Applications Out: All the fresh brand new applications have been placed out.

Grand Elections Council: Looking for some fresh brand new people to be able to look at all the stuff pertaining to the elections! Contact Erin. Garrett is part at this point, need two more.

Catherine Blocher, Activities Officer:

Selma: The Bridge to the Ballot: It was not the largest gathering, nor was it the smallest. We had a modest 6-7 people show with a lively discussion that came afterwards.

Mario Day: That is happening right now. You can even see the screen where someone from Nerd Herd is beating other nerds in Mario Kart 8. Vroom vroom

Study In: 2-7 on this Friday. There will be tutors, snacks, pizza, drinks, drawings for gift cards, as well as childcare. It's as if you had no good reason to not show up, other than increased consciousness of a virus going around.

F³: Fresh For Finals! Going on Monday and Tuesday. Planning on having Food and the massager will be back! This will definitely be a well-attended event and people will get plenty of massages.
